

How is a Forklift Powered?

Various types of fuel can power a forklift including propane, gasoline, electricity and diesel. There are two main tire types to support and transport the unit: pneumatic tires and solid rubber tires. Usually the pneumatic tires are reserved for the larger capacity load bearing lift trucks.